

Leo

When you've got it
- flaunt it.

George Lois

Pretend you're a child, with nothing to hide, Then we'll join hands and let the universe swing wide.

Carly Simon

My true center...was an enormous capacity for falling in love with everything around me.

Malina Hoffman

Do anything,
but let it produce joy.

Henry Miller

We are all worms,
but I do believe
I am a glow worm.

Winston Churchill

A man can succeed at almost anything for which he has unlimited enthusiasm.

Charles Schwab

I celebrate myself and sing myself.

Walt Whitman

The Lion...sprang upon the bed and rolled himself up like a cat and purred himself asleep in a minute.

Frank Baum

As soon as he woke up he felt important, as if everything depended upon him.

A.A. Milne

When I walk out, I am a great event. I do not have to think, or even rehearse.

Sylvia Plath
